

Contact Information

For more information about the Academic Achievement Program contact the Center for Urban Education:

Siena College
Center for Urban Education
515 Loudon Road
Loudonville, NY 12211-1462

Phone: 518-782-6725
Fax: 518-782-6571
E-mail: cue@siena.edu

Visit us on the web: <http://www.siena.edu/cue>

Siena College Center for Urban Education

Academic Achievement Program
A Supplemental Educational Service Provider

“The essence of intelligence is skill in extracting meaning from everyday experience.”

~Unknown

Do you have or know a student that attends Philip Livingston Magnet Academy or Hackett Middle School?

If so, the student could be eligible for FREE tutoring services!

Tutoring services are provided on Thursday evenings throughout the school year from 4p.m.-7p.m. at Siena College. This program is paid for by the City School District of Albany, there is no cost to the student's family. It's FREE! Call the contact number on the brochure for more information.

What makes Siena College's Program Different from other SES providers?

- ✚ The overall goal of the program is to promote language awareness, develop vocabulary skills, increase reading fluency, and improve problem solving skills through fun activities in the areas of English Language Arts and Mathematics.
- ✚ Students have access to electronically enhanced classrooms, computers, and College Library resources.
- ✚ All sessions are led by New York State Certified Teachers.
- ✚ Teachers and College Tutors will provide students with academic support individually and in small groups.
- ✚ Free transportation is provided from your school to Siena and back.
- ✚ Evening meal is provided.
- ✚ The Center for Urban Education also sponsors the Saturday Urban Scholars Program that fosters the development of gifts and talents in urban youths. Philip Livingston Magnet Academy and Hackett Middle School students can also join this program. Students can double their learning and fun by being involved in both programs.