A WEEKEND WORTH STAYING FOR

WHAT DO SAINTS DO ON THE WEEKENDS?

Some of your first friendships at Siena might start over a game of trivia or in the stands at a Saints game. A few weeks later, you're making breakfast plans together and asking who's free next weekend. From on-campus events to time spent exploring nearby, there are plenty of ways to meet people and find the places that feel like yours.

A NIGHT WITH SNL

Siena Night Life (SNL) brings something different to Saturdays throughout the semester. On campus, you can round up a team for trivia, make a stuffed animal at Stuff-a-Plush, or give goat yoga a go. SNL also takes the fun off campus for outings like bowling.

THURSDAY COUNTS, TOO

Every Thursday night, the Student Events Board hosts Coffeehouse with a rotating lineup of events. You might try your luck at bingo, make something to take back to your room, or catch a live performance. Bring a friend and make it your regular Thursday night study break.

MORE TO YOUR WEEKEND

You'll find Saints in the stands on game day and gathered around the fire pit after dark. Some weekends are full from Thursday on. Others are a chance to slow down, catch up with friends, and see where the day takes you.

CHEER ON THE SAINTS

Grab your green and gold. There's a Siena team to cheer for in every season. On campus, you might catch volleyball at the UHY Center or soccer at Hickey Field. You can also head to MVP Arena in downtown Albany for men's basketball and join other Saints in the Dog Pound, Siena's student section.

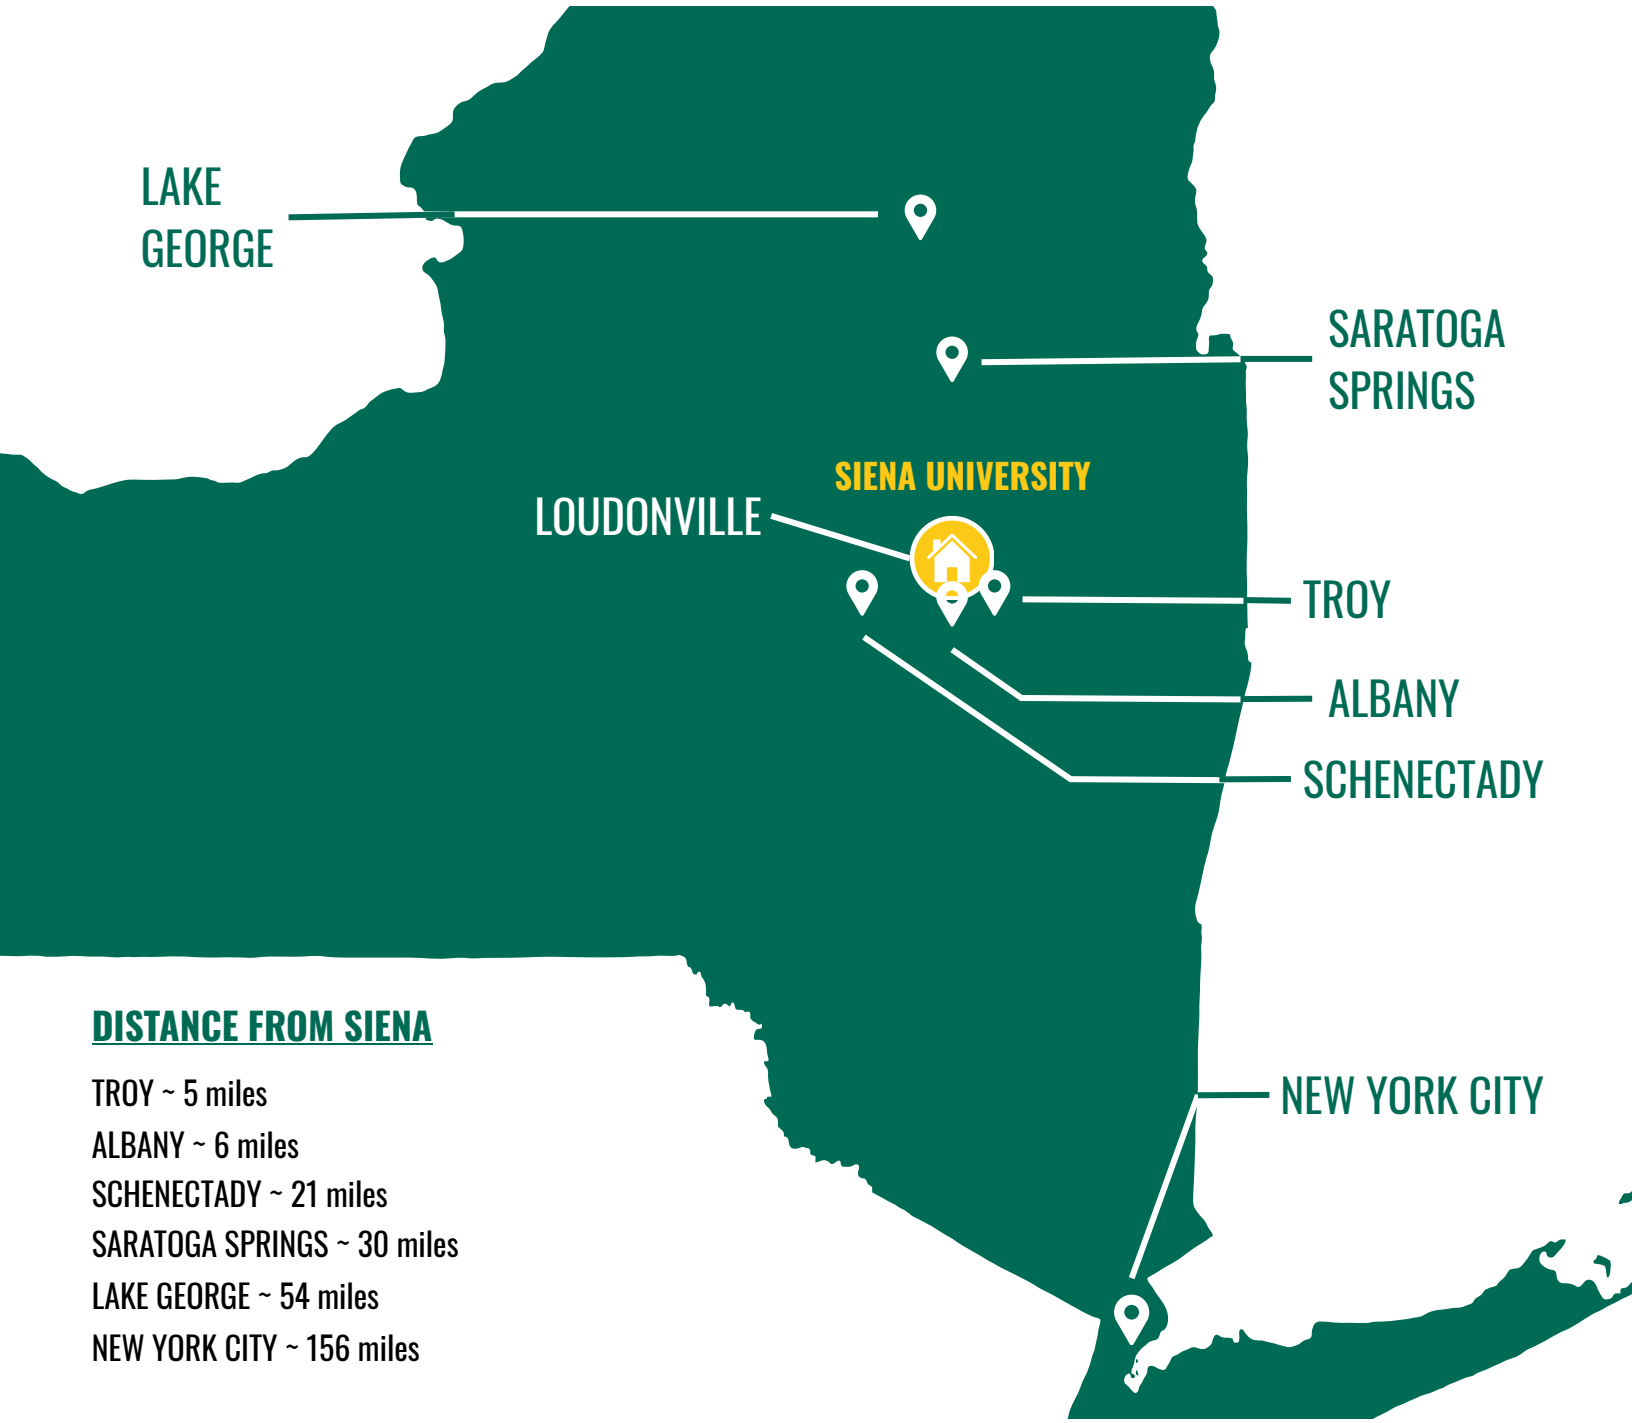

STAYING IN COUNTS, TOO.

Some weekends are a chance to catch up on the things you enjoy. Spend an hour with a book, get coffee with someone you've been meaning to see, or take a walk around campus. When evening comes, you might head to the fire pit with friends, grab dinner to go, and watch a movie with your roommate.

BEYOND CAMPUS

Siena is in Loudonville, New York, just north of Albany. From campus, you can spend an afternoon in one of the Capital Region's nearby downtowns, head north to Saratoga Springs or Lake George, or plan a longer trip south to New York City.

DISTANCE FROM SIENA

NEW YORK CITY ~ 156 miles

BEYOND CAMPUS

AROUND THE CORNER

Just one mile from campus, Newton Plaza is a quick spot to meet a friend for lunch, grab a coffee, or pick up something for your room. It's close enough for a quick errand or an afternoon browsing the shops.

AN AFTERNOON OUT

Spend an afternoon off campus browsing Troy's farmers market, or exploring the shops in downtown Saratoga Springs. For live entertainment, see a show in Schenectady or catch a game or concert at MVP Arena in Albany.

MAKE A DAY OF IT

Take a trip north to Lake George for a hike and an ice cream stop in the village. Or head south to New York City, take a walk through Central Park, and catch a show before heading back home.
