About the speaker:

Dr. Dovile Budryte
from Georgia
Gwinnett College

Born and raised in Vilnius, Lithuania, I currently live in Atlanta. I am a professor of political science at Georgia Gwinnett College, and I work on EUROPAST project at the Institute of International Relations and Political Science, Vilnius University. My research interests include memory politics, trauma, nationalism and gender studies. My publications include articles on various topics related to minority rights and memory politics, one single authored and four co-edited books, including Memory and Trauma in International Relations: Theories, Cases and Debates (co-editor with Erica Resende), and Engaging Difference: Teaching Humanities and Social Sciences in Multicultural Environments (co-edited with Scott Boykin). In 2015, I was the recipient of the University System of Georgia Excellence in Teaching Award. In 2022-24 I serve as the President of AABS (Association for the Advancement of Baltic Studies).
